

Bobby & Jenny Mihsill

Missionaries to Côte d'Ivoire ♦ Project #42.10027

Ministry Focus

- Teaching at IBAO (West Africa Bible Institute)
- Helping develop the national church
- Training leaders for the Children of Promise program
- Coordinating missions teams coming to Côte d'Ivoire

Bobby and Jenny Mihsill arrived in Côte d'Ivoire in January 2015 after a year of language school in France. The Mihsills teach a variety of theological courses at IBAO, West Africa Bible Institute, and assist the national church in training leaders for the Children of Promise program. Bobby and Jenny led the launch of the Children of Promise program in Côte d'Ivoire in the summer of 2016. Another one of their ministry responsibilities is to help coordinate and host missions teams in Côte d'Ivoire.

Jenny was born in Seymour, Indiana, but was raised in Woodburn, Oregon, after her parents (Sam and Mary Dunbar) relocated to serve in ministry at Hoodview Church of God. The seed for missions was first planted in her heart at a youth session at Oregon State Camp Meeting. She has been on numerous mission trips and previously served as a special assignment missionary to Japan for Global Strategy for three years.

Bobby was born and raised in Meghalaya, India, where his immediate and extended family has been part of the Church of God for many years. A powerful encounter at a youth camp at the age of eighteen led him to commit his life to Christ. After earning a bachelor's degree in business and accounting, Bobby began working for a non-governmental organization teaching street children in Kolkata. It was there that he and Jenny met when she was working to complete her AUSOT internship in India. They completed their seminary degrees and were married in 2010. They have two children.
